Mr. Fouad Mahmoud Younes

Dear Fouad:

I apologize for the very belated nature of this letter. Travel and the opening of the school year have delayed me.

I want to express my most sincere condolences at the tragic death of your sister, Nadia. The loss of a loved one is always difficult, but I am sure that the senseless and brutal nature of Nadia's death has made it even more difficult to bear. I hope that the richly deserved encomia she has received have been at least some small comfort. You have probably seen the article from the August 24 issue of the New York Times. On the outside chance that you have not, I thought it best to enclose it.

If I am right in thinking that your younger daughter, Nadia, was named for her aunt, she must be proud to reflect on what an outstanding model she has been given of selfless devotion to international cooperation and world peace.

I want you to know that I will continue to keep you and your family in my prayers during this difficult time.

Sincerely,

Aloysius P. Kelley, S.J.
President
